

Board of Advisors

New in 2012, the North Carolina Technology Association Board of Advisors provides members an avenue for enhanced engagement throughout the year. The Board of Advisors serves as a resource to NCTA by providing advice and feedback; outreach to prospective members; and other assistance to raise NCTA's profile as the primary voice for North Carolina's tech sector.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

Membership on the Board of Advisors is limited to one person per NCTA member company/organization. Participation is ideal for individuals who have interest in future service on the NCTA Board of Directors, executives with companies already represented on the Board of Directors and seasoned members of NCTA who wish to have another avenue for higher level engagement. Other suitable backgrounds might include business development, CXOs who bring functional-area leadership experience, company owners/founders, etc.

WHAT'S THE INVESTMENT?

Membership on the Board of Advisors is $600 annually in addition to regular NCTA membership dues. Your investment is billed at time of your annual NCTA membership renewal (it can be pro-rated if you would like to join before your renewal month) or at time of joining for new members. Note that the Board of Advisors membership fee is not considered a sponsorship and therefore is not included in a company's aggregate annual sponsorship levels.
